The Chicago Flag

The Chicago flag, designed by Wallace Rice, was adopted on April 4, 1917. It consists of three white bars divided by two blue bars. The upper and lower white bars represent the North and South Sides, while the wider middle bar characterizes the West Side. The blue stripes signify the North Branch and South Branch of the Chicago River. The four stars are red, and commemorate Fort Dearborn, the Chicago Fire, the World's Columbian Exposition of 1893, and the 1933 Century of Progress.

ONE HUNDRED YEARS

The theme, One Hundred Years and Today, was chosen because it was in 1855 that Chicago's first public high school was built. The Chicago High School was a stately, three story, limestone building. It withstood the ravages of the Chicago Fire in 1871, which claimed 15 other schools, and served as a refuge for the victims of the fire. Chicago's historically conscious citizens regretted that recently it had to be torn down to make way for the Congress Street Highway.

Chicago has always been eager to learn and progress to better things. Although some pioneer citizens realized that the way to obtain this was through education, it wasn't until 1883, that an Illinois state law gave every child between 8 and 14 compulsory education, — of not less than 12 weeks a year. Today the school year is 40 weeks and Chicago has 35 general, 4 technical, 7 trade and vocational high schools, and 1 special school for the handicapped.

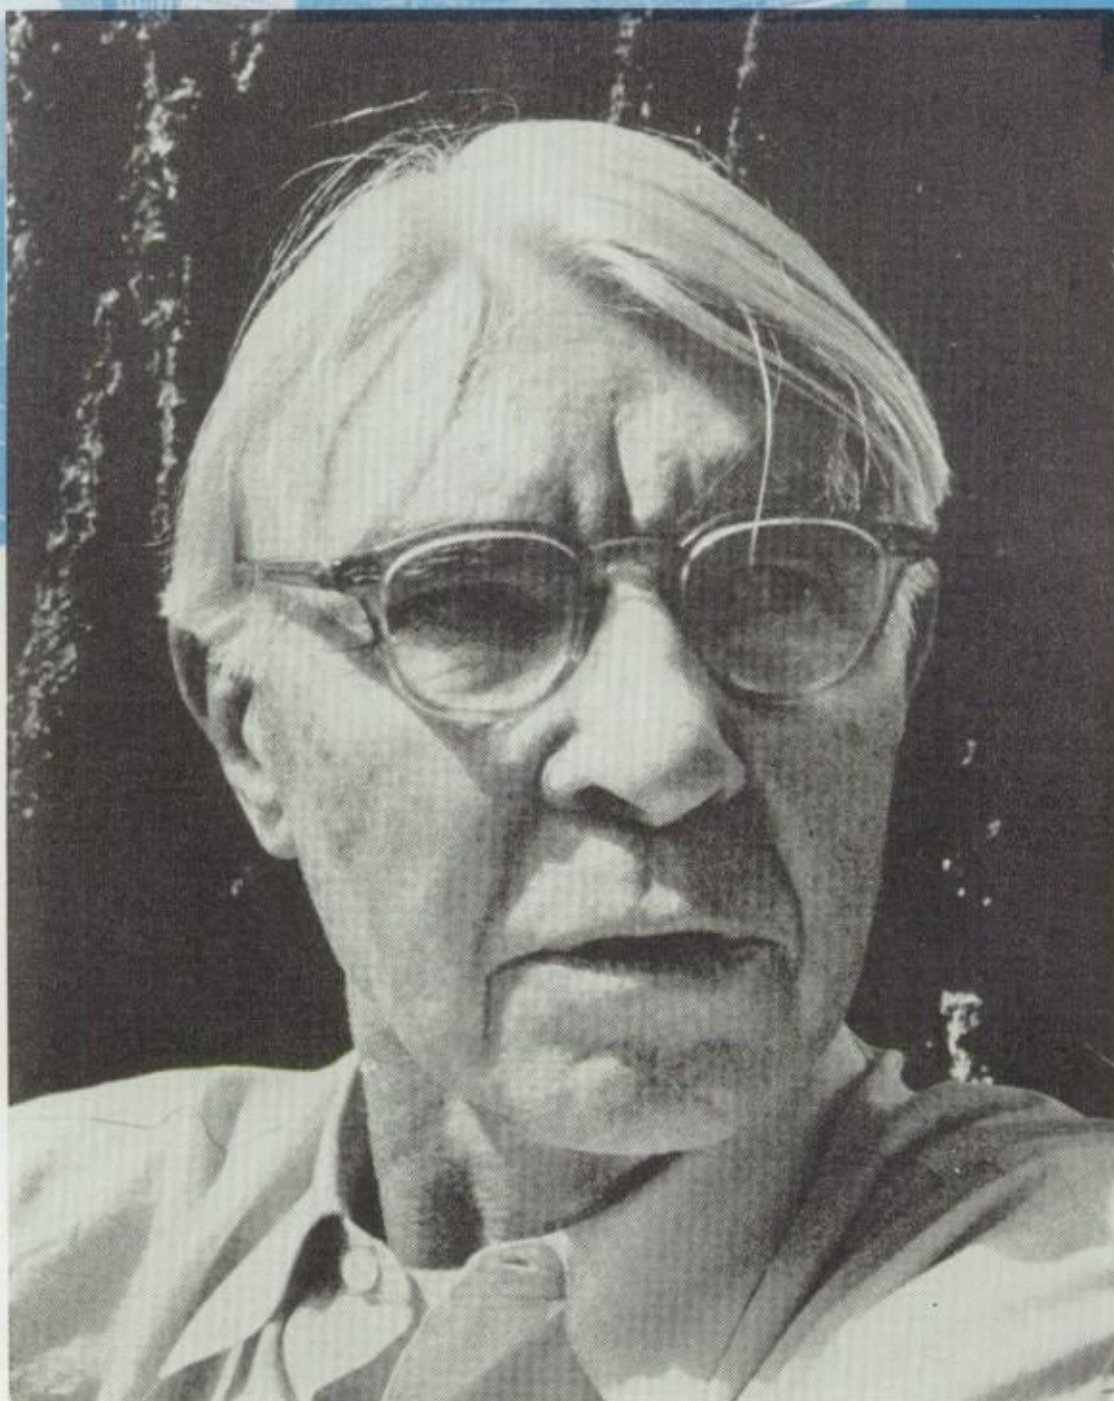

We can really be proud of the vast progress Chicago and its educational system have made in the comparatively short span of one hundred years.

AND TODAY

CONNEMARA FARM
FLAT ROCK, N. C.

Dear Miss Sachs:

Of course you may dedicate ^{to me} the yearbook of Kelvyn Park High School.
In winter and in summer, about 40 years ago I often walked on Monroe Street east of Halsted. Ever good wishes -

Carl Sandburg

CHICAGO

CARL SANDBURG

Readers of poetry were greatly startled in 1916, when an unknown poet wrote his first volume of verse, Chicago Poems. The poems were written in vigorous free verse, using common, ordinary words in strange, new ways. The young poet had found success with his stories of people, factory machines, city streets, and skyscrapers, in poems that used the language of the laboring man, including his slang.

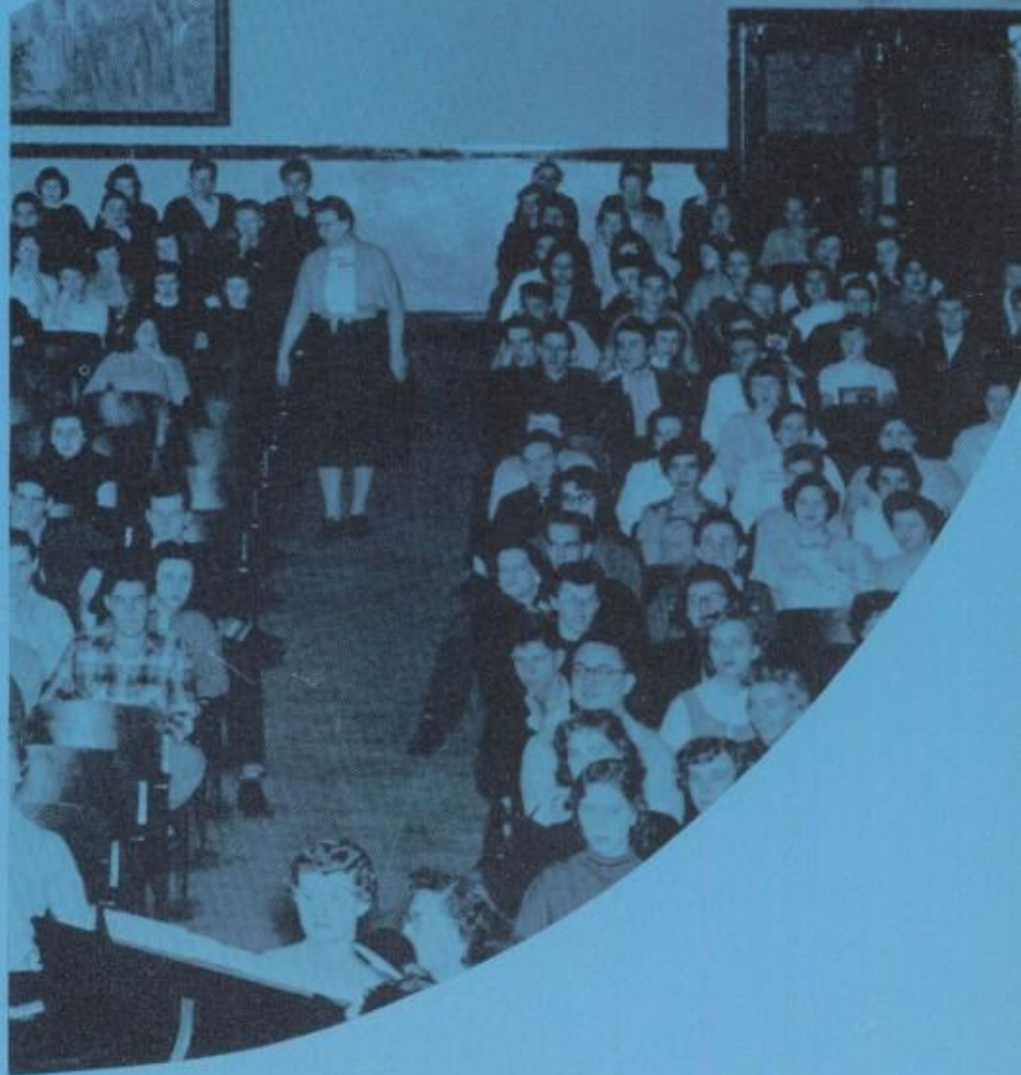

Fame was strange to this son of a Swedish immigrant farmer, who at 13 had quit school and was working as a dishwasher, porter, or milk wagon driver. As a young man he had enlisted in the Spanish American War, come back home, and entered Lombard University. As a graduate he worked for the Chicago Daily News, learning a great deal about Chicago and its people. However with his unlimited curiosity and energy urging him on, he began to move all over our great country.

As folk-lorist, story-teller, biographer of Lincoln, and novelist, he is known and loved by all Americans. But his poems about Chicago are his most popular works, giving Carl Sandburg just claim to the title of "The Chicago Poet."

Hog Butcher for the World,
Tool Maker, Stacker of Wheat, Player with Railroads and the Nation's Freight Handler;
Stormy, husky, brawling,
City of the Big Shoulders:
They tell me you are wicked, and I believe them,
for I have seen your painted women under the gas lamps luring the farm boys .
And they tell me you are crooked and I answer:
Yes, it is true I have seen the gunman kill and go free to kill again.
And they tell me you are brutal and my reply is:
On the faces of women and children I have seen the marks of wanton hunger.
And having answered so I turn once more to those who sneer at this my city, and I give them back the sneer and say to them:
Come and show me another city with lifted head singing so proud to be alive and coarse and strong and cunning.
Flinging magnetic curses amid the toil of piling job on job, here is a tall bold slugger set vivid against the little soft cities;
Fierce as a dog with tongue lapping for action, cunning as a savage pitted against the wilderness,
Bareheaded,
Shoving,
Wrecking,
Planning,
Building, breaking, rebuilding,
Under the smoke, dust all over his mouth, laughing with white teeth,
Under the terrible burden of destiny laughing
as a young man laughs, Laughing even as an ignorant fighter laughs who has never lost a battle, Bragging and laughing that under his wrist is the pulse, and under his ribs the heart of the people,
Laughing!
Laughing the stormy, husky, brawling laughter of Youth, half-naked, sweating, proud to be Hog Butcher, Tool Maker, Stacker of Wheat, Player with Railroads and Freight
Handler to the Nation.

The School

It was only one hundred years ago that Chicago's first public high school was built at Monroe and Halsted Streets. With Mr. Charles A. Dupree as principal, it opened in 1856 with an enrollment of 114 boys and girls.

As Chicago grew larger, more schools were built. At present 89,307 young people are enrolled in the public high schools of Chicago and are given the opportunity of a free high school education.

Kelvyn Park was built in 1918 as an elementary school, a branch of the Nixon. During the years between 1921 and 1925 it was also a branch of Schurz, serving only freshmen students. Then in 1925 it became a junior high as well as a grammar school. An addition was added in 1930 making gymnasiums, swimming pool, and more classrooms available. Finally in the fall of 1933 Kelvyn Park Senior High School opened, and in the spring of 1936 the grammar school was discontinued. This year Kelvyn has a small enrollment of only 1,177, of which 275 will be graduated in the June and January classes. Kelvyn, although a small school, has been the winner off many art, music, science, sports, and journalism awards.

This year the theme of the P.T.A. was "Guiding Our Future Citizens," with the aim of promoting good living. Each month presented a different facet of the theme: school services, scholarship, good books, parent education, music and religious training, better human relations, good nutrition, and finally mental health. In September a Freshman Tea started the year's social events and the campaign for new members. The total membership for 1954-55 was 338 members.

The Classes

There is a great contrast between the classes of 1855 and today. Then penmanship was the mark of education, and was strictly stressed in the curriculum. A course called Classical Studies, emphasizing Greek and Latin, was offered for three years. At first English was a two year course, but when a teachers' training department was added, it was extended to three years. It is amusing to note that Shakespeare was not taught as his works were considered improper. Later in the 19th century, music and drawing were added to the curriculum, but not until well into the twentieth century was science included.

Today the Chicago public high schools offer a four year course with approximately 120 different subjects to choose from, including business training, technical and shop courses, as well as academic subjects preparing the student for college.

Activities

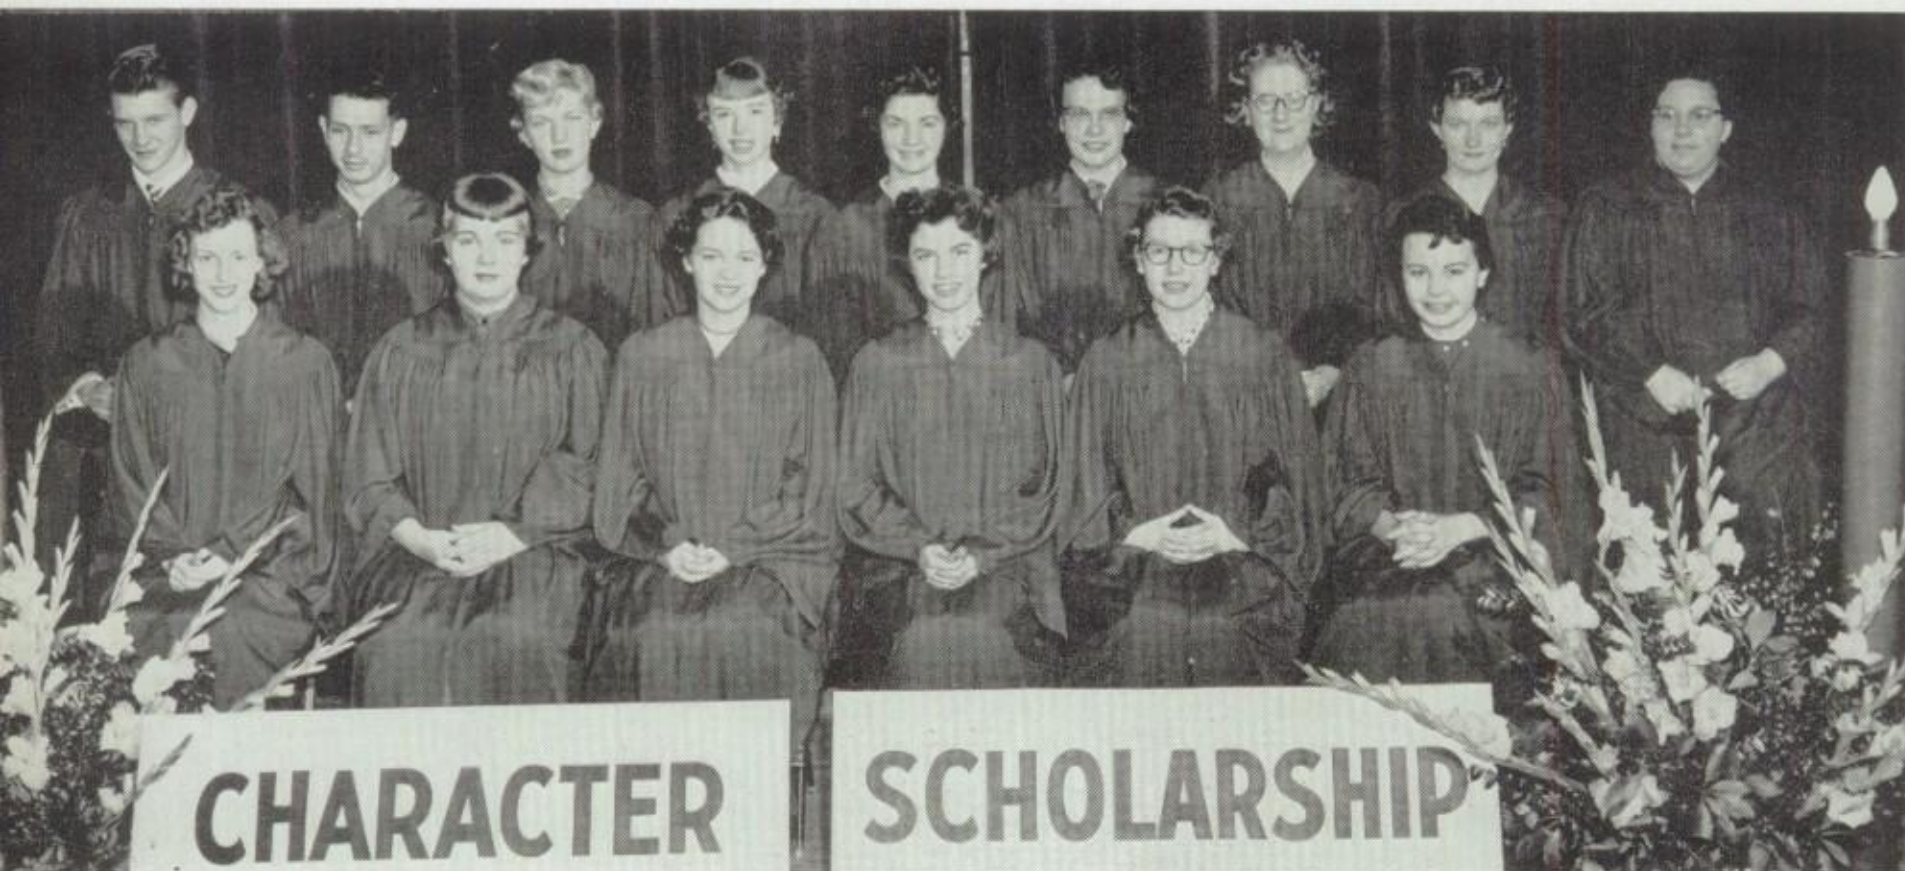

Chicago, in 1855, was a bustling, active city. Just fifty years before, the first white settler had built his cabin. In that span of time Chicago had made tremendous strides towards its present position as "hog butcher to the world" and "bread basket for the nation".

The first Chicago high school, unlike the city, had no extra-curricular activities. While the activeness of the city was making it famous, the students did nothing more than attend classes. The first railroad, The Galena and Chicago Union, built in 1848 by William Ogden, Chicago's first mayor, was rapidly progressing, and in the next two decades Chicago became the crossroads of the nation. In 1860 the Republican National Convention nominated Abraham Lincoln in Chicago. Thus, a new reputation started: Chicago, the convention city.

Chicago was destined to be great, and, as the city's activities grew, so activities in its public schools grew until they have reached the point depicted on the following pages.

The ideals of the National Honor Society are Scholarship, Character, Leadership, and Service. With these in mind, Mr. Samuelson carefully selects new members. Fifteen percent of a graduating class are members; five percent are inducted in 11A, another five percent in 12B, and the remaining percentage in 12A. The semi-annual installation is a very beautiful and impressive ceremony. Our chapter sponsors a highly popular orchid sale every May.

Quill and Scroll is an International Honor Society for High School Journalists. Membership is restricted to upperclassmen who are in the upper third of their class and have done outstanding work on one of the school publications.
Projects undertaken by the Society this year are: roller skating parties, the sale of pencils, key chains, and plastic yearbook covers.

A semi-annual candle-light ceremony honoring new inductees in the afternoon is followed by an evening banquet. This is an impressive and enjoyable reward for the Quill and Scroll members.

Student Council and Civic Forum

STUDENT COUNCIL

Sponsor: MRS. JANE BLAIR

Kelvyn Park's Student Council has handled the students' problems for the year and increased the understanding between the student body and teachers. Each semester it sponsors a program to make incoming freshies feel at home. Under Bill Buchholz, president, and Carole Willming, vice-president, it initiated a charity drive that sent Care packages overseas. In May it took part in a District Student Council to promote better relations between neighboring schools.

CIVIC FORUM

Sponsor: MRS. ELIDA L. MURPHY

The Civic Forum offers an opportunity for students to voice their opinions and hold panels on topics concerning the school, community and the nation. This year we enjoyed several outstanding travel lectures. Miss Byman talked of her travels in Europe and many questions were asked afterwards. After the Christmas vacation Mrs. Wilhelm told of her trip to the Caribbean. Mrs. Murphy accompanied her talk on Hong Kong and the South Sea Islands with beautiful slides.

Sponsor: MISS GRACE POLTROCK

Teens Tell Tales Club is a reading club whose members meet in the library on Tuesdays, twice a month to discuss teen-age books and authors. The club members are enthusiastic readers who enjoy books! The officers of the club are: Mary Ann Barton, president; Jean Fischer, vice-president; LeeNore Sladek, secretary; Toni Mandro, treasurer.

Students who arrange books on shelves according to a subject classification system, students who attend at the large desk charging and discharging books, students who file catalog cards, students who mend and mark books—all are members of the Library Assistants' Club which is a service that trains students not only for work as future librarians but also for many other positions as well.

Every other Friday, the SOCIETAS LATINA convenes in room 315 at 8:00. Its purpose is to acquaint Kelyyn's students with the culture of ancient Greece and Rome, and its influence on our modern world.

Christmas was celebrated with a festive breakfast. Toys and other gifts were collected and given to the Off the Street Club for distribution to under-privileged children. A Roman Style Show was presented at a meeting preceeding the annual banquet. The banquet was, as always, a great success. All guests came attired as Roman citizens. A delicious meal was served by slaves and eaten in typical Roman fashion, without any silverware and ab ovo ad malum.

This has been a very active year for the Pan American Club. Every Spanish class holds its meeting the second and fourth Friday of the month during the class period. A real feeling of fellowship between students of the Americas is attained because of these meetings. The members learn about Latin American customs, and life "south of the border."

This year the club again sponsored a Pan American breakfast on April 14, Pan American Day. This has come to be an annual activity for the club. The breakfast has always been an enjoyable experience, not only for the students but for the teachers and parents who are invited as guests.

Future Teachers' of America and French Club

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

Sponsor: MRS. JOYCE WILHELM

In October 1954, a new club was formed: The Future Teachers of America. It became part of the national organization of this name in March '55 when Kelvyn Park received its charter.

Early in the year the club was asked to be host for the National Education Association's Convention. The conference at Kelvyn helped students from all over the city to choose colleges for teacher training. The call for teachers is great, but The Future Teachers of America are answering.

FRENCH CLUB

Sponsor: MRS. EDITH P. WRIGHT

Le Cercle Francais meets weekly during its class period. Its purpose is to promote a better understanding of French customs and culture, and to provide a program of constructive activities for the French students. The two main projects of the French Club during the past year were the Christmas corsage sale and the April Fool miniature hat sale. The proceeds were used for music scholarships.

Beginners' and Advanced Band

Sponsor: MISS L. FRANCES FISCHER

Brasses, woodwinds, and percussions constitute a variety of instruments to offer new students in Beginners' Band. Many students enter the Band with little or no knowledge of playing an instrument. They receive drilling in all phases of musical skills. The Band plays simple marches, chorals, and waltzes.

After a semester or two, good players are promoted to the Advanced Band. This Band plays for many assemblies, and contributed to the Spring Festival this year by playing "March Triumphale," "Stars and Stripes Forever," and "Southern Roses." A first chair contest in each instrumental section determines the winner, who receives a special bronze pin. The musical education gained in our Bands leads many to a musical career. Personal satisfaction and much fun is obtained from learning to play an instrument.

This versatile group recently played at the annual Spring Festival, entertaining the audience with selections like: "When You Wish Upon a Star" and "Andalucia Suite." Many times, however, a hot jam session is performed for the Orchestra's own enjoyment.

The two choruses of Kelvyn Park High School—the Mixed Chorus and the Girls' Chorus—have completed another successful year under the capable direction of Mr. Leonard Polk.

The highlight of the year's work was the Annual Spring Festival. Among the Mixed Chorus's selections were Adoramus Te, Christe, and a negro spiritual, "Set Down Servant." To climax their performance, a production number of selections from "Showboat" was given.

The Girls' Chorus gave a beautiful rendition of "Liebeslieder" and "Waltz of the Flowers," along with a medley of songs from the musical stage.

Both choruses have contributed much to school assemblies and pro-

GUIDANCE OFFICE ASSISTANTS

Any time during their four years at Kelvyn, students are welcome in the guidance office to discuss their problems. A staff of capable guidance office assistants act as receptionists, and do filing, typing, and statistical work. The personnel work includes employment and college placement service. The adjustment office functions in several ways, including testing, record keeping, research, and providing contact with teachers and parents for educational guidance.

The hub of a school's activity is the office. The office assistants learn office procedure while giving useful service to the school. Under the direction of our efficient and friendly clerks, they learn filing and mimeographing, deliver bulletins and messages to teachers, and do various other clerical jobs. We are very sure that without these assistants Kelvyn would not be the smooth running school it is.

Where do I go if I'm tardy to school? What if I want an early dismissal? Who can straighten out the mistake made on this absence slip? The answer to all three questions is Mr. E. J. Nelson and his attendance clerks. Under their capable guidance, the many duties of the attendance department are carried out. The students who work in the office are chosen on the basis of scholarship, dependability, and attendance.

Stage Crew and Movie Operators

The Stage Crew, one of the first clubs at Kelvyn, has been growing in importance ever since. This year with the able assistance of Norman Spooner, student manager, a new loudspeaker and amplifier system has been installed. A plan has been worked out whereby two boys are assigned to be on call for stage duty each period. This fine group of boys care for all sound equipment, stage lighting, and in general, see that all Kelvyn's productions run smoothly.

There are two divisions of the Visual Education Department: first, the library has charge of issuing and calling in the films; secondly, the operators take the films and show them to the classes.

The Movie Supervisors' Organization is composed of approximately 100 boys and girls who have the responsibility of showing films to the various classes. David Rebik is president and Alan Amos vice-president of this group. Operators are picked from each class by the teachers, and a group of senior operators are picked by Mr. Barr to supervise the machinery and the operators.

Athletics

The main sport in the early year of 1855 was hunting. It has been recorded that a 400 pound bear was killed in a tree near LaSalle and Adams Streets. Although horse-racing had been enjoyed for some time, it wasn't until 1884 that the first American derby was held at Washington Park. Today, baseball is a very popular sport, but it wasn't until 1866 that it came to Chicago. Ten years later, the Chicago National League Club — now known as the Chicago Cubs — won the league's first pennant. It was also in 1876 that wrestling was introduced to all of Chicago at the New Chicago Theatre.

But high school athletics were non-existent. Today all of Chicago's high schools have competing teams in football, basketball, and baseball; many have added tennis, golf, swimming, track, bowling, and skating teams.

Football and Cheerleaders

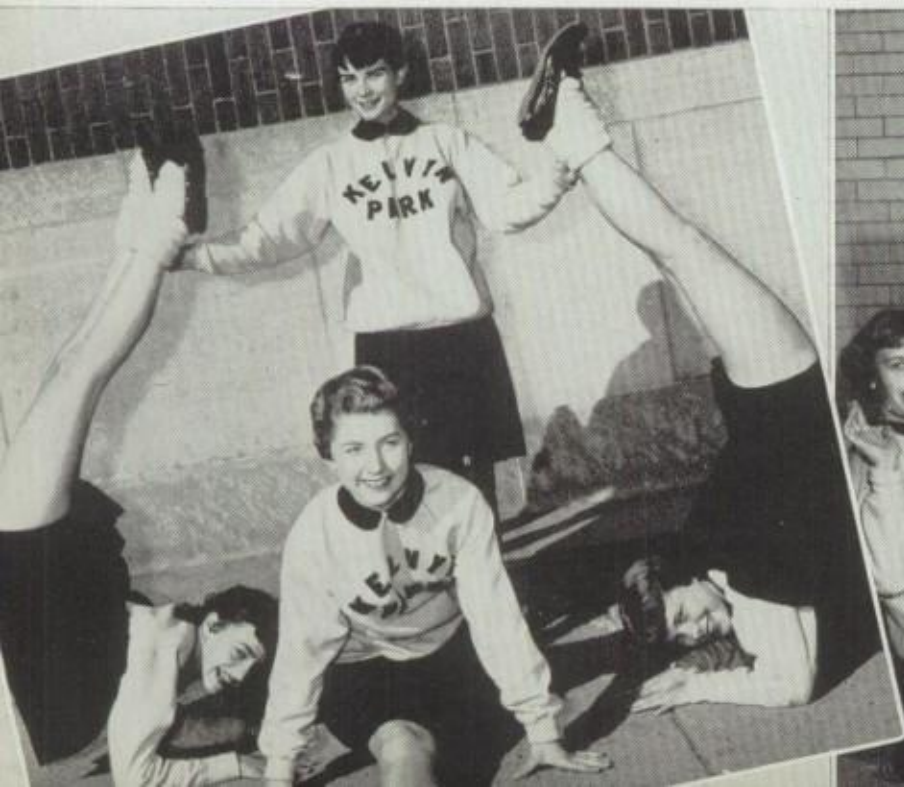

The spirit of football was upon us again as the traditional game with Foreman got under way. Four returning lettermen were in the starting line-up. When Danielsen scored in the third quarter, Kelvyn appeared victory-bound. Not until late in the last quarter, did Foreman rally to win 7-6. During the pre-season, Kelvyn reached its peak of performance early in the Sullivan game. Nick Weinrauch scored on an end-run, and the game ended in a tie.

The regular season started with misfortune as we met Amundsen, Taft, and Steinmetz, the three strongest schools in the White Division. With Marshall we came out on the wrong end of a 6-0 score. Roosevelt added to our woes by routing us 34-6.

"We're From Kelvyn, Couldn't Be Prouder" is the screaming yell given by the popular cheerleaders at all the football and basketball games. Along with the peppy girls, are the ever twisting and turning energetic tumblers who display their abilities faithfully. In any kind of weather the girls always performed with the talents of pros.

Basketball

In spirited action during the Tuley-Kelvyn Park Frosh-Soph game, Jon Peterson battles for possession of the ball, while Art Friess watches.

The Varsity Team's best game brought defeat upon Manley; Foreman was also defeated at Kelvyn by a 67-66 score in our traditional rivalry.

The practice season record was 4 wins and 5 losses. The regular season record was 3 wins and 6 losses. Kelvyn Park looks forward to better records in the future. The school hopes the athletic teams will have "Lady Luck" smile on them from now on.

WON'T YOU COME IN...

and discuss the possibilities of a nursing career with our Miss Jackson?

NURSES

have employment when others are unemployed. Nursing services are always in demand.

NURSES

know that their education is a wonderful foundation for a happier wifehood and motherhood. Eight out of 10 nurses marry within 5 years of graduation.

NURSES

need not be lonely. Their lives are built around people and people are interesting.

NURSES

can return to their profession after years in the home or on a part time basis to help family budgets.

NURSES

travel. A nurse's services are required on an ocean liner, an overseas plane, in armed services and for foreign and domestic assignments. Other nurses prefer to work within walking distances of their homes.

NURSES

know the moral satisfaction that comes of helping others. Nurses are honored members of a profession that maintains life and brings continued happiness to others.

For more information on what nursing as a career could mean to you, won't you come in and talk with our MISS JACKSON?

Call Diversey 8-6400. Miss Jackson will be happy to see you at your convenience.

Nursing is more than a Job . . . IT'S A PROFESSION!

Irene Hanrahan represented Kelvyn for the Annual Hearst Oratorical Contest on the subject, Robert E. Lee.

In a city wide competition, the title of Cadet Captain of the All Chicago R.O.T.C. was given to Melvin Nelson.

An essay entitled "What Freedom in America Means to Me" won Barbara Rozen a Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion award.

Marilyn Kunda and Gail Thorsen were the winners of the school's annual typing contest.

Congratulations!

GREETINGS TO OUR KELVYN PARK NEIGHBORS:

In addition to the many pleasant contacts we have during the year, we at Illinois Tool Works especially look forward to Christmas time when Mr. Leonard Polk and members of the chorus entertain us at noon and again in the evening with carols, "Rudolph, The Red Nose 'One'," and other Christmas songs.

The many Kelvyn Park graduates here join us all in sending greetings and congratulations to each one in the graduating classes of 1955.
